proposed the 49th parallel, as the definite line of boundary, from the Rocky Mountains to the open Pacific; to which the British replied by repeating their proposition as above stated. Neither party would yield more; and so, after formally withdrawing their respective offers, by which each declared that it was in no wise to be considered bound thereafter, they renewed the agreement, to leave the country open to the people of both, for an indefinite period, subject, however, to be terminated after a year's notice of such intention by either to the other. That agreement is still subsisting."

DISSOLUTION OF THE NORFOLK REPEAL ASSOCIATION.—The Repeal Association of Norfolk has followed the example of the Baltimore and New free and glorious Republic; and by our solemn oaths and deep-rooted obligations for the blessings which we have inherited or acquired, to cheerfully and steadfastly protect and support the Ame-

A brigantine, with four hundred and seventy-five slaves on board, a prize to H. B. M. ship Wasp, arrived at Sierra Leone on the 11th of April.

The barque California left Monrovia on the 7th of February, for Cape Palmas, with the Rev. G. Perkins and family, and Rev. Mr. Appleton and lady.

Capt. Brown has favored the New York Commercial with the Liberia Herald of March 15, for which newspaper the British consul at Monrovia has been secured.

"His Excellency, the Governor, returned to Monrovia on the 7th March, from a visit to the leeward settlement. While at Sinoe he completed the purchase of the entire Sinoe country.

"The commissioners appointed by the Governor to settle a dispute between the chiefs of Little Bassa, and to complete the purchase of the whole country, succeeded fully in their mission.

The U. S. Ship Preble.—The Herald says that the U. S. Sloop of War Preble has been most unfortunate as regards the health of her crew. The last intelligence from her gives seventeen as her loss by death, and seventy as the sick list.

A letter from Sierra Leone to the New York Herald, gives an account of the capture of the slave schooner Echo, by Her British Majesty's ship Wasp. She was given in command of Midshipman Palmer and ten men, from whom it was recaptured by the crew, and they all murdered. The schooner was afterwards recaptured, and the crew sent to England for trial.

A CAPITAL HIT.
[From the Fredericksburg Recorder, May 27.]
JOHN S. PENDLETON.—This gentleman is really an object of commiseration. His position as the "Lone Star" of Virginia Whiggery, will render him so painfully conspicuous in the next Congress, that some have suggested the probability of his being elected to the Senate.

liety of his resignation. His ambition for notoriety is indulged to an uncomfortable surfeit. To be pointed out on the Avenue, to be known in the House, to be chronicled in History, as the Whig, will be quite too much for his sensitive spirit to endure. He has the place, its honors and emoluments; but alas, for its pleasures!—Where can he look for sympathy? The whole world, from the Potomac to Chili, can afford him none; and recreant Democrat as he is, we think too well of him, to believe he would seek it in the Abolition Whig cohorts of John Quincy Adams. If some Ariel could gain access to Mr. Pendleton's office, and find him in a meditative mood, he might hear a soliloquy something like this:

To go, or not to go—that's the question—
Whether 'tis nobler in the mind, to suffer
The slings and arrows of Locofocoism,
Or to lay down arms before a sea of trouble,
And by retreating 'scape them? To go—to stay—
No more; and, by staying, to say we end
The heart ache and the thousand bitter shocks
That Croons are heir to—'tis a consummation

Devoutly to be wished. *But thus to go
Alone!* To stay alone! aye there's the rub!
For in my solitude what dreams may come—
Of politicians changeling and faithless—
Must give us pause! *There's the respect
That makes calamity of so long a life;*
For who would bear the tannis of fourteen Loco-
Focos,

The gibes and jeers of dauntless conquerors,
 Just from a field where I alone was left
 To tell the victors had a foe! And wherefore I?
 A fiftenth part of life is worse than death,
 And when e'en that is conscience stung, who'd
     bear it,
 When he could shun a part and ease the rest,
 At home? Far better bear the ills we have,
 Than fly to others that we know not of.

Thus conscience does make cowards of us all—
"I'll stay at home!"

A resolution worthy to be kept!

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE FOR SALE
The subscriber offers for sale the Farm on which he resides, situated in the county of Camp.

The tract contains about 800 acres of land, and consists of 700 acres, or more, lying between the James river and Blackwater creek, (which forms one of the present boundaries of the town,) and the islands in the river, running parallel with the main body of the land; the one containing about 30, and the other between 60 and 70 acres. Four hundred and sixty acres of the tract are cleared.

and in cultivation—the balance is in woods, and a large portion of it heavily timbered. Of the cleared land, 115 acres (inclusive of the island), are James river low-grounds, equally productive, it is believed, to any on the river. The portion of the high-land in cultivation is now well-adapted to the growth of the different staples, and is rapidly improving.

The dwelling-house is a large and commodious brick building, with eight rooms above stairs and convenient cellar beneath. The out-houses belonging to the dwelling are well located, of substantial materials, and in good repair. The place has on it an overseer's house, barn, and all the necessary farm-houses. There is also on the premises, in immediate proximity to the town, a Ware-house formerly used for the inspection of Tobacco, which, with some slight repairs, might be placed in a condition suitable for the same purpose.

The tract admits of being divided into three or four tracts, each having a fair portion of woods and cultivated land.

The place will be sold entire, in two or more

A minute description of the place is deemed unnecessary, as those who wish to purchase, will no doubt, make enquiry and examination for themselves.

If the tract is sold entire, possession will be given the 15th November next, and a crop of Wheat seeded for the purchaser. Should any desire to purchase for small parcels or lots they can do so.
